MOIA GmbH

Job-Titel:
Working Student IT Support (m/f/d)

Job-Beschreibung

Join us as a Working Student IT Support (m/f/d) in our Digital Workplace team to improve our next generation ridesharing service.

MOIA is an innovative mobility company that will change people’s lives by reimagining urban mobility. MOIA will create services that enable more people to move more freely and securely, ultimately making cities better places to live. We will free up the movement of people and goods within cities whilst making mobility accessible to everyone.

That means we will:
- Make city traffic clean, safe and silent
- Create more time and space for people
- Bring affordable and convenient mobility to everybody

About your team:

Our IT team are experts in combining information, technology and business knowledge to create innovative solutions that change the way our users do their daily work. We enable faster and smarter decision-making through the use of ground-breaking technology, and best-in-class tools.

What you will do:
- Provide amazing day to day hardware and software technical support for our users
- Configure hardware as part of onboarding and refresh cycles
- Assist with new hire orientations covering policies, best practices and services used within MOIA
- Maintain hardware and software inventory
- Support audio visual needs for MOIA employees in conference rooms and other common areas
- Work together with hardware technology systems and external service providers
- Participate in different technical projects and continuously improve our business processes

Anforderungsprofil

What will help you to fulfill your role:
- You are enrolled in Business Informatics, Computer Science or an equivalent field of studies
- Computer skills: Good skills in Apple technologies (macOS, iOS), G Suite/O365
- You love to work in a dynamic start up atmosphere
- Excellent verbal and written communication and collaboration skills
- Fluent in both German and English

What we offer you:

We are a new company and a fast-growing team. We see things from a people's perspective, observing, learning and responding to their social needs. We are always curious to find better ways to do things and so we question everything. We are driven by the possibilities better urban mobility solutions can unlock. We work with different people, disciplines, and companies to make great things happen. MOIA offers a unique opportunity as it combines the best of the startup and corporate worlds. We are an innovative new business based in top locations such as Berlin and Hamburg but are also backed by a large corporate parent providing funding, resources, know-how, and commitment.

What we offer you in detail:
- We believe good ideas count more than hierarchies
- Attractive working atmosphere in a dynamic team
- Opportunity to help shape a growing company with an informal culture
- Many exciting insights into the world of a start-up
- Flexible working hours & possibility to work from anywhere in our modern office
- Regularly recurring company events like bi-weekly reviews & company breakfasts
